GUIDELINES FOR PARTICIPATION:

1. Dress your child in clothing suitable for making art. Some materials may permanently stain clothing.
2. Please provide us with an emergency number where the parent or adult guardian of the participating child may be reached at all times during a class session.
3. Children must be picked up promptly at the close of each class session. Supervision will not be provided between the morning and afternoon classes, or at the close of the Art Festival. University buildings will be closed at 3:30 pm.
4. You are welcome to visit your child's art session at any time. The last 15 minutes of a class are recommended.
5. All possible care will be taken with your child during the Festival. DSU and its representatives will not be liable for damage to clothing, personal injury, or accidents during the 2002 Children's Art Festival.
6. Cancellations after Wednesday, April 24, or "no show" will not be refunded.
7. If a Child's behavior becomes a problem, the parent will be notified to pick up the child and the registration fee will not be refunded.
