

Fernando Quijano
ECON 201
10:00
Fall 2005
37 Students

Quijano did very well with note taking but I felt he needs to teach more on our level of understanding. I think he was very fair with giving the students 2nd chances and giving us sources to look at. I also enjoyed him giving credit to showing up to class and allowing & encouraging team participation.

This course contains some very difficult material. I am glad the instructor has plenty of online help. I think there should be more grade opportunities though. The tests are pretty big. I do like the take home assignments because then we can work in groups on the harder assignments. He is very well-informed but needs to understand we are all not at his level.

Fernando is very entertaining. He makes us laugh. He's definitely not boring. He's very smart and knows economics very well. I wish I could comprehend the material as well as he knows it. He uses really interesting real life examples to help us understand the concepts.

The content of the website was good, but sometimes hard to navigate. The criteria of tests was appropriate, but review time was not always managed well. Sometimes important material was gone through too quickly or skimmed over.

The course goes very in depth in the market industry. I think the professor taught it effectively.

Teacher is very intelligent in his course of study. Only problem is his knowledge of Economics surpasses mine and he went a bit too quick in lectures. Very nice to have all notes on hand though and he is always willing to help.

I highly enjoyed the learning environment, using many different media, graphs, and even open forum.

Speaks good Spanish

Fernando is interesting & fun. He uses valuable teaching tools that really get the point across. I enjoyed this course immensely.

Quijano is a great teacher. He knows so much in his field that he can answer every question anyone could ever have. I would take any class offered by him.

He was a very good instructor he broke things down so it would be easier to understand. He takes the time if you need help.

The instructor is very well educated and has a great knowledge about the course. His way of teaching has really been helpful for me in understanding the core of the subject. His humor from time to time makes the class enjoyable. He just needs to add more humor to the class so that it will always be cheerful.

Fernando knows too much to be teaching a Principles class. The material isn't explained well enough and I feel he expects too much from us. There are good things, like the fact that we know our grades right away and he encourages us to work in groups, but I don't his way of teaching is very affective. He also needs to be careful about the things he says in class. You don't go into a farm & ranching community and say that it's easy to farm and ranch.

The teacher has great knowledge in the subject and has good notes that really help when studying for tests.

Everything was good, with some take home tests & notes written on the board but I felt that the instructor expected us to know more than we did. I found this class hard & didn't enjoy it b/c of the difficulty

The instructor knew more than enough to teach the class, but sometimes used too much of his knowledge and confused me, instead of just teaching the basics. But he made the class fun with his jokes and stories.

Group study and take-home tests have been useful for giving every student a chance to reinforce other learning abilities and it allows for social interaction, even though it is a very tough course.

I liked Fernando. I thought he was well prepared to teach this class everyday. It was nice to get our test results very quickly, but the tests were really hard. I don't think he should have made some of the tests so difficult but other than that I thought he was a great instructor.

I love this course, the teacher is excellent.

I believe the instructor was very knowledgeable. I liked that he put the notes on the board and discussed the material thoroughly. Although the tests were tough, it makes a student apply themselves more and more thoroughly understand the material. I am satisfied how he teaches the course.

Major intellectual gap between student & teacher. Hard to understand content of course. Exams were graded very quickly!

-Too many Drug comments-

He had very good notes, but worded the tests very difficultly.

I really liked this class. The instructor provided us w/good notes on the board and that was helpful.

He is an excellent instructor that treats his students as adults. He expects a lot, but is willing to help if it is difficult.

test were hard.
